Style in War-Time

Some men may feel that it isn't patriotic to go in for style these days.

It isn't if you just buy clothes for style alone. Quality is of first importance every time; you must have it if you want to save for yourself and the nation.

The nice thing about it here is the fact that you get style in addition to quality; it doesn't make the clothes cost any more and it doesn't waste any material.

Hart Schaffner & Marx designers have produced some unusually smart suits and overcoats; you don't have to be told the quality's right—everybody knows it.

ENGLISH REFUSE HALF WAY PEACE

GERMAN CHANCELLOR MAY RESIGN, ACCORDING TO ADVICE FROM HOLLAND.

(By the Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14.—No temporary armistice, nor any armistice at all, unless accompanied by Germany's unconditional surrender, is the dominant note in the most of the comment on the peace situation in this morning's newspapers. The Morning Post says, "No armistice until defeat is acknowledged by the enemy. Otherwise the war has been in vain." The Daily Chronicle says, "Germany must not be left free to rattle the sword again at the peace conference."

Imperial German Chancellor May Resign.

London, Oct. 14.—Resignation of Prince Maximilian of Baden Imperial German Chancellor is probable, according to reports from Holland today. Advices quote Berlin National Zeitung as saying Chancellor's retirement regarded in certain circles as inevitable.

Government Asks Forbearance

Washington, Oct. 13.—The Government asks the American people to withhold their judgment on Germany's note until President Wilson has received the official communication and has opportunity to consider it.

The official document had not been received in Washington tonight when the president returned from New York. It probably will be here tomorrow when the president confers with his advisers, among them Secretary Baker, who returned today from the western battle front undoubtedly prepared to give him some inside information on the broken condition of the German military power of which the world necessarily does not know at this time.

Tonight, as last night, no official of the Government felt justified in speaking to guide public opinion in the direction of the views which are being formed. The Associated Press is enabled to say, however, that these views rapidly are crystallizing and the next step will be taken promptly, probably sooner than may be expected.

War Summary by Associated Press

The Germans have abandoned Laon and entire St. Gboain regions. The French after re-occupying Laon have pressed on until their line runs from the Oise river above La Fere to the eastern end of Chemin des Dames. Not until the French reached Laon-Le Fere railroad did they encounter any real resistance. The French and British have virtually reached Brunshild line east of Cambrai and St. Quentin, while French, farther south are within four miles of Guise. On the Champagne front General Berthlot is less than five miles from Reims, while General Gouraud has taken Vouziers but hasn't penetrated much north of it. Douai has virtually been reached.

TAKING OF LAON FREES CIVILIANS

With the French Army in France, Oct. 14.—Laon, the last of the group of natural obstacles forming the key-stone of the German defense in France, has been taken without a fight.

Gen. Gouraud's troops in pursuit of the Germans have reached the banks of the Aisne in the bend that passes south of Reims and Chateau Porcien. Five thousand civilians have been liberated in the villages and towns retaken from the Germans.

Born to Prof. and Mrs. G. W. Hawkinson this morning a boy. Prof. Hawkinson is connected with the band at the cantonment at Camp Travis.

FIGHT CONTINUES ON LARGE SCALE

BRITISH CLOSING IN ON DOUAI, FRENCH AND SERBIANS BEYOND NISH.

(By the Associated Press)
London, Oct. 14.—British are closing on on both sides of Douai, Field Marshal Haig in official statement reports gains on both sides of that town. The enemy attacks were supported by tanks. The enemy was repulsed yesterday at Haspres, southwest of Valenciennes. British patrols pushed out last night at number of points, gaining ground and taking prisoners.

Serbiants Take More Ground.
London, Oct. 14.—After capturing Nish Saturday the Serbian forces took possession of the enemy positions north of that town, according to the Serbian official statement of today. French cavalry have occupied Bela Palanka.

French Repulse Germans.
Paris, Oct. 14.—French troops last night continued to keep in contact with the retreating Germans, the French war office announced today. French repulsed the remaining enemy troops showing resistance on Aisne canal's north bank, south of Chateau Porcien.

HUN NOTE HAS BEEN RECEIVED

TO BE SENT ALONG, CONSIDERED AND ANSWERED BY PRESIDENT.

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 14.—Germany's reply to President Wilson's note reached the president early today and was identical with the wireless version received Saturday night. President Wilson, Secretaries Baker and Lansing and Colonel House were in conference all afternoon and then the president was left alone in his study. The only official intimation that has come today was that the president is sure to act quickly and positively. It is assumed that informal exchanges will be made between Washington and allied capitals, and it is thought that the president may determine his reply before the day is over, if he is informed of the views of the allied premiers.

New Words Will Be Retained.

When the United States opened an official postal service through the air words were coined to meet this new departure. These met with such favor with the postal officials that they are used officially in the postal service. These words, which appeared on the day the new service was inaugurated, are "postplane," "plane-post" and "plane-posted."

BEWARE OF GERMAN TRICKERY.

With an experience of more than four years with the German nation in all of its treacherous and lying methods, it is not to be presumed that the Allied nations are going to take any chances in dealing with her in a peace settlement. In the first place they are going to be very sure that the Huns really want peace and are willing to pay the price demanded by the Allies. Every precaution against falling into a German trap will be taken and no suspicious movement tolerated. The Allies will be as alert to resent any show of treachery as the old time westerner was to act when he saw the hand of the other fellow move towards his hip pocket. In the next place every man realizes that the war will have been in vain if German militarism is permitted to retire from the fray unbroken. Germany will pay for revenge and will begin preparations for another world war unless so tightly bound that no such thing is possible. The world wants peace but wants permanent peace, not a mere truce, and we may rest assured that the American government will agree to nothing else. Meantime it should be borne in mind that peace has not yet come and that we should not relax our efforts in the Liberty Loan campaign and other activities. Now that the Hun shows signs of weakening America should redouble all efforts and make as speedy an end of him as possible.

DANGER IN DETAILS.

As the News views the situation, there are two sources of danger for the allies in the latest German peace move. In the first place the other nations allied with the United States do not have to accept the German offer, inasmuch as they have never expressed their willingness to do so. Such a cause would almost certainly result in serious difficulties between the nation fighting Germany and would break down the effectiveness of the unity of action. This course of affairs is not likely to occur, however, as President Wilson would hardly have offered such terms to Germany without the approval of the other governments.

The other source of danger is in arranging the details of the armistice. If we agree to let the German army march back to German soil with their arms and then dig themselves in, we take grave chances. We must remember that the word of a German amounts to nothing. Before granting an armistice, the German army should be compelled to lay down arms, or the allies should demand the control of certain German cities and certain German railroads. This is little less than a surrender, but to demand less is to fail to take advantage of the condition of the German army. The German rulers are trying desperately to do one of two things: kill time in order that the army may hold until bad weather sets in; get the allies divided. These are the two things we must avoid.

Marvelous Grand Canyon.

Those who have lived with, rather than glanced at, the Grand Canyon become increasingly moved by its glories. It has inspired more literature and art than all the other scenic places of America combined. It is the center of a steadily increasing pilgrimage of painters. It perhaps may be said that the Grand Canyon and the region of which it is the climax inspire the highest as well as certainly the most extensive expression of landscape art in America today.

America the Old World.

It has been observed that, although this continent is the new world in relation to its discovery, it is an old world, much older than Europe, in relation to the types of its animals and plants. For example, the big trees of California are of older stock than any trees now growing in Europe. The question has been raised whether some of the races of Siberia and eastern Asia have not sprung from American aborigines, rather than that our Indians have come from that quarter.

Full, True and Particular.

A girl was asked to parse "kiss," and this was her result: "This word is a noun, but it is usually used as a conjunction. It is never declined and is more common than proper. It is not very singular, in that it is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me."

Well Rewarded for Victory.

After Waterloo the British parliament purchased for the duke the estate of Strathfieldsaye at a cost of £260,000. The king of the Netherlands, grateful for restoration to his throne, created the victor Prince of Waterloo and presented him with large estates. Other distinctions included the Orders of the Garter and the Golden Fleece and the rank of field marshal in eight European armies.

Homophony.

Homophony is another name for Unison, where two or more voices or instruments have the same part. It is the opposite of Polyphony where different tunes are heard at the same time. The term is not in general use in music.

PURCHASE MORE LIBERTY BONDS

APPEAL FOR MORE MONEY URGENT—HAVE YOU BOUGHT.

Redoubled efforts are under way to meet the full situation in the matter of increasing the bond buying. That every person must go the extreme limit and purchase all the bonds possible is the test of patriotism that must be applied. If you CAN buy another bond go and do so AT ONCE. Don't delay. Your government MUST have more money, and must get it from you.

Chairman Ellison received yesterday the following telegram from the Federal Reserve Bank which is self explanatory.

"Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.

"L. A. Ellison, Ada, Okla.
"We cannot too strongly impress upon you and your people the fact that there must be no slackening of effort in the Liberty Loan campaign on account of the publication of the news of Germany's acceptance of peace terms. It would be nothing short of a tragedy in American history if the loan should fail. Our task is not by any means finished and Germany is watching the results of our loan just as closely as ever. The facts are that the money which is being subscribed to this loan has already been contracted and actually spent by the government. Furthermore our government has enormous outstanding obligations yet to be met and unless every unit in the loan organizations of the tenth district meets its full obligation we may properly be classed quitters. Give this telegram widest possible publicity and wire us immediately to the effect that there are no quitters in your country.—Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and Central Liberty Loan Committee Tenth Federal Reserve District."

To which the following reply was sent: Federal Reserve Bank, Kansas City, Missouri:

"We have already oversubscribed our quota and are still at work. There are no quitters in our country.—L. A. Ellison, Chairman Pontotoc County."

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 16c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WILSON'S FAMOUS FOURTEEN PRINCIPLES

Washington, October 14.—President Wilson's program of world peace stated in fourteen terms in his address to Congress last Jan. 8 is as follows:

1. Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understanding of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view.

2. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas, outside territorial waters alike in peace and in war, except as the seas may be closed in whole or in part by international action for the enforcement of international covenants.

3. The removal, so far as possible, of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

4. Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

5. A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon a strict observance of the principle that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the Government whose title is to be determined.

6. The evacuation of all Russian territory and such a settlement of all questions affecting Russia as will secure the best and freest co-operation of the other nations of the world in obtaining for her an unhampered and unembarrassed opportunity for the independent determination of her own political development and national policy and assure her of a sincere welcome into the society of free nations under institutions of her own choosing; and, more than a welcome, assistance also of every kind that she may need and may herself desire. The treatment accorded Russia by her sister nations in the months to come will be the acid test of their good will, of their comprehension of their needs as distinguished from their own interests and of their intelligent and unselfish sympathy.

7. Belgium, the whole world will agree, must be evacuated and restored without any attempt to limit the sovereignty which she enjoys in common with all other free nations. No other single act will serve as this will serve to restore confidence among the nations in the laws which they themselves have set and determined for the Government of their relations with one another. Without this healing act, the whole structure and validity of international law is forever impaired.

8. All French territory should be freed and the invaded portions restored and the wrong done to France by Prussia in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine, which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years, should be righted, in order that peace may once more be made secure in the interest of all.

9. A readjustment of the frontiers of Italy should be effected along clearly defined lines of nationality.

10. The peoples of Austria-Hungary, whose place among nations we wish to see safeguarded and assured, should be accorded the freest opportunity of autonomous development.

11. Roumania, Serbia and Montenegro should be evacuated; occupied territories restored; Serbia accorded free and secure access to the sea, and the relations of the several Balkan states to one another determined by friendly counsel along historically established lines of allegiance and nationality; and international guarantees of the political and economic integrity of the several Balkan States should be entered into.

12. The Turkish portion of the present Ottoman Empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities which are now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubted security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage to the ships and commerce of all nations under international guarantees.

13. Erection of an independent Polish State, including the territories inhabited by indisputably Polish populations, with free access to the sea and with political and economic independence and territorial integrity internationally guaranteed.

14. The formation of a general association of nations under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantee of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike.

In his speech of Feb. 12 the President said:

"After all, the test of whether it is possible for either government to go any further into this comparison of views is simple and obvious. The principles to be applied are these:

"2. That peoples and provinces are not to be bartered about from sovereignty to sovereignty, as if they were mere chattels and pawns in a game, even the great game, now forever discredited, of the balance of power; but that

"3. Every territorial settlement involved in this war must be made in the interest and for the benefit of the population concerned, and not as a part of any mere adjustment or compromise of claims among rival States; and

"4. That all well defined national aspirations shall be accorded the utmost satisfaction that can be accorded them, without introducing new or perpetuating old elements of discord and antagonism that would be likely, in time, to break the peace of Europe and consequently of the world.

"A general peace erected on such foundations can be discussed. Until such a peace can be secured we have no choice but to go on. So far as we can judge that we regard as fundamental are already everywhere accepted as imperative except among the spokesmen of the military and annexationist party in Germany. If they have anywhere else been rejected, the objectors have not been sufficiently numerous to make their voices audible. The tragical circumstance is that this one party in Germany is apparently willing and able to send millions of men to their death to prevent what all the world now sees to be just."

HUNS AGREE TO WILSON'S TERMS

MAY POSSIBLY BE ANOTHER
GERMAN TRICK TO HINDER
LIBERTY LOAN.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Germany's reply to President Wilson's inquiry intercepted as it was being sent by the great wireless towers at Nauen and forwarded here tonight in an official dispatch from France, declares that Germany is ready to accept President Wilson's peace terms, evacuate the invaded territory as a prerequisite to an armistice and that the bid for peace represents the German people, as well as the government.

Although on its face the text of the German note seems to be a complete acceptance of President Wilson's terms, the people of the United States and the allied countries should be cautioned against accepting it as such a compliance of the president's demands as will mean immediate cessation of hostilities.

The text of the note as received here says Germany accepts President Wilson's terms as laid down; accepts evacuation of invaded territory as a necessary preliminary to an armistice and ask for a mixed commission to make the arrangements; declares that the chancellor speaks "in the name of the German government and of the German people," and that its only object in entering into discussions is to agree on the practical details for carrying out the terms President Wilson has laid down.

The greatest danger facing the people of the United States, officials said here tonight, is that they might hastily consider Germany's proposition as the unconditional surrender which the co-belligerents demand and relax their efforts to continue the vi tories at arms and carry over the fourth Liberty loan. On every side in official quarters it was stated that this view of the situation could not be placed before the public too strongly.

IN MEMORIAM.

On Saturday Oct. 12, as the sun was shedding its first rays over the city the angel of death came with muffled wings and silent tread and took from a devoted father and mother their innocent babe, Beulah, the 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Northcutt. Grim death chilled the dear form and hushed the sweet voice loved by all, and now the winds blow and the birds sing over the mound that marks her resting place. Now another voice sings God's praise around the great white throne and the shroud that covers her now is an angle robe. A FRIEND.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC IS LESS VIRULENT

The situation in the city relative to the prevalent epidemic seems to be much better today. While there seems to be an increase in the number of cases, the general conditions seems to be much improved. Fewer serious cases are noted, and the authorities seem to have better control. The following deaths are reported since the issue of Saturday.

Clara V. Jackson, age 18, daughter of Coleman Jackson of 308 West 8th, was buried Sunday.

Mattie Roe, aged 38, who resided near the Cement plant died Saturday and was buried Sunday.

Joe M. Brown, age 20, who resided two miles north of the city, was buried Sunday.

Joe Cope, age 26, living three miles west of the city. Funeral Sunday afternoon.

Jessie M. Harkrider, age 29, living at 301 West 4th, died Saturday evening. The remains were shipped to Conway, Ark., today where the funeral will be held.

Nellie Thurman, age 28, living at 431 West 3rd died Sunday. Funeral was held today.

Master William F. Ebisch, the 2-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wagner Ebisch, died Sunday at the Frisco Hotel. The services were held from the undertaking parlors of Blankship & Cummins Monday afternoon. Interment at Rosedale cemetery.

Metropolitan Jealousy.

It is characteristic of New York that it has to have a name of its own for that part of the Hudson which washes the shores of Manhattan. Doughty old Hendrick Hudson's name would seem in appropriate one for any river, and that part of it which lies between the Battery and The Bronx is not north of anything in particular, except possibly New Jersey or Florida; none the less, New York calls it the North river, apparently unwilling to share even a name with "upstate."

J. M. WINTERSMITH DIES AT LOUISVILLE

J. M. Wintersmith died at Louisville, Kentucky, Sunday morning about 2 o'clock of pneumonia which developed from an attack of influenza contracted a few days ago while he was en route to Louisville to attend the funeral of his sister. The funeral and interment will be held there today, Louisville being his home for many years before coming to Ada.

From the first the case was serious and each day his Ada friends waited eagerly for messages hoping that the next would tell of his having passed the crisis safely.

Mr. Wintersmith came to Ada in 1906. He, A. L. Beck and others organized the Oklahoma Portland Cement Co. and moving here to begin construction of the plant. From that time forward his life was a part of the history of the city and county. There was no public enterprise which did not have his backing, both morally and financially. He was a man of great civic pride and although a very busy man he always found time to work for the interest of the community in which he resided. When the war broke out he put every energy into war work, the Red Cross being his favorite. Applying the same keen business sagacity to this work that characterized his private business, he made the Pontotoc county organization one of the most effective and efficient to be found anywhere and as a result is today one of the banner counties of the United States. In the last Red Cross campaign under his leadership it was the first in America to report over the top.

Not only was Mr. Wintersmith a man of great public spirit, but many a man in Ada has occasion to hold him in grateful remembrance because of personal favors done when they needed a friend, although he never made a display of this side of his character.

His death may to no small degree be attributed to the heavy business and public cares that rested on his shoulders. The cement industry passed through a very hard period that wrecked many plants a few years ago, and only skillful handling brought the Ada plant safely through the crisis. When the property was sold to its present owners two years ago, he was made general manager and at once his work was increased by the decision of the company to enlarge the plant. This with his war work loaded him to the limit and only a man of unusual ability could have carried it through as successfully as did Mr. Wintersmith.

Deceased was a loving husband and father. His ambition centered in the future of his son, Jim, Jr., and it was with pride that he often spoke to intimate friends of plans for the boy when he grew older.

In the death of J. M. Wintersmith this community has lost one of its best citizens. Loyal to the core, enterprising and progressive, ready at all times to assist in any laudable undertaking, he can ill be spared at this time and his place will be most difficult to fill. His untimely passing in the very prime of life is a blow to Ada where every man was his friend, for he was square in all his dealings and generous with those in distress.

Clark M. Moore, general manager of the string of cement mills of which the Ada plant is a member, pays a glowing tribute to the integrity and business ability of deceased. The company has some $2,000,000 invested in Oklahoma, and the entire property was placed unreservedly in Mr. Wintersmith's hands and never was this confidence abused. Mr. Moore says of him that he lived strictly up to the teachings of the Golden Rule in business as well as private life.

RODDIE HEARING IN PROGRESS

THREE WITNESSES ON STAND BEFORE NOON TELL OF SHOOTING.

The preliminary hearing in the case of R. M. Roddie, charged with killing Percy Barton, began this morning at 10:30 before Justice Brown, I. M. and B. C. King and Wimbish & Duncan appeared at the trial for defense. The state was represented by County Attorney Wadlington and his deputy, A. C. Chaney. At noon three witnesses had been examined. The trial was resumed at 1:30 P. M.

Dr. S. P. Ross testified that deceased had phoned him to come to his father's office to treat his bruises received in a difficulty with Roddie in the court room. Did not know of change in location of office and stopped near First National bank corner. Barton met him told him of change. Made no threat against Roddie. Last saw Barton headed west towards Rollow corner. On cross examination stated life might have been saved had proper attention been given wound on the spot instead of taking time to carry him to hospital.

John Rawls, chief of Police, was an eye witness to the shooting. Saw Barton cross over to First National bank corner, talk with some one and return to Bart Smith's drug store and go to the cold drink counter. Saw Roddie coming from west somewhere about Jackson's store. Barton was leaning against door post on east side of door. Roddie talked with some parties on sidewalk. Turned and went nearer door of drug store. Parties got rather close together. Barton either struck Roddie or struck at him. Roddie went to hip pocket. Barton threw up right arm as if to shield face. Rawls shouted to Roddie not to do that. Barton moved sideways away from Roddie. Roddie fired from the hip. Barton began sinking down after second shot. Barton was not armed. Three shots were fired, witness thought.

Cross examined: Barton was standing against east door post with arms folded looking west. When Roddie came along had stepped out with right arm in striking position, possible to conceal weapon in army trousers which are full below the belt.

Redirect examination: Had suggested to Walter Goynes that a search of Roddie might get a gun. Goynes said that he had no gun.

Bob Dixon: Was on east side of Rollow's door when shooting took place. Saw Barton come out of drug store and stop when even with stairway. Hands in natural position. Never saw first shot. Looked like Barton made lunge for Roddie's gun after first shot. Never saw Barton make move towards Roddie before shooting.

Joe McElreath: Was at meat market across street when shooting took place. Four shots fired. Saw Barton fall. Helped carry Barton to hospital and cut clothes off. Was not armed.

Walter Goynes: Saw Barton shot by Roddie. Had called Roddie over phone. Told him Judge Barton and Percy came up in court house looking for him and Judge Barton told Percy if he did not whip him he was no son of his and advised Roddie to keep away to avoid trouble. Roddie said he hated to run. Goynes said not a case of running, but of keeping down trouble. Roddie said he would go home. Never told Roddie Barton threatened his life. Next saw Roddie in front of Drummond & Alderson's store. Roddie said he was going to buy collar and then going home. Didn't hear Roddie say he was not afraid of anybody. Thanked Goynes for warning. Was talking to Henry Stuckey and John Rawls when Barton went east in front of First National bank talking to Dr. Ross, then came back past Goynes. Roddie came up and asked when court convened. Roddie found skinned place on neck and said would go to drug store and get something to stop bleeding. Next saw Roddie jump back. Barton coming from drug store door. Looked like tried to grab Roddie with one hand and struck with other. Next heard guns fire. Parties very close when gun fired. Appeared to be getting farther apart between first and second shots. Between eight and ten feet apart when last shot was fired. Barton began falling after second shot. Goynes took Roddie's gun and started west with Roddie. Roddie said something like, "My God! What have I done? I wish I hadn't done it."

Cross examined: Saw Barton come to court house before shooting. Judge Barton said, "Son the beat me up in the court room and if you don't whip him you are no son of mine." Barton looked in the various offices of court house, the judge using strong language about Roddie. Went up 12th street still talking. Thought they were hunting trouble. Saw Roddie at Drummond & Alderson's some twenty or thirty minutes later. Again warned Roddie. When shots fired Barton was in striking position. Never heard of any difference between men before this time. Had helped separate Judge Barton and Roddie in court room fight of morning. Barton had said Roddie would answer for this.

Use Fur as Money.

The Loyalty Islands, which lie in the Pacific to the east of Australia, are famous for their fur money. The fur, which is taken from behind the ears of the so-called "flying fox," in reality a large fruit-eating bat, is woven into cords of various lengths, and these constitute the ordinary currency of the islanders.

GIVES BOYS' NAMES TO THREE GIRLS

Stubborn Father's Queer Action Discovered by Draft Board in California.

San Diego, Cal.—Always on the alert for draft evaders, the sheriff some time ago found on the great register the names of three voters of draft age who had failed to register for the service. Further investigation showed that in the Pin Hills district lived a small family by the name of Smalley. Three names appeared—John, William and Harrie.

Armed with the proper papers the sheriff immediately bled himself into the mountains to arrest the suspected three drafters. After considerable trouble the sleuth found the Smalley ranch. He at once asked for John, William and Harrie. And to his behold! up stepped three beautiful dark-haired young ladies, each with a million-dollar smile which caused the officer to gasp, blink and then wipe off his brow.

As soon as the sheriff could recover he asked for an explanation and learned that "Daddy" Smalley was some stubborn individual and years ago had his heart set on having a family of boys. He was so sure that before his first-born had arrived he named it John. His disappointment was great when he was blessed with a daughter, but he stood pat and vowed the name John would stand. His second child proved to be another girl, but the father had already named it William, and of course that name had to stand for all time. When the third babe was born "Daddy" was not quite so sure, but he had the nerve left to compromise and declared in advance the name would be "Harrie"—and it was another girl.

Not until the drafting for the army came about did the old man weaken and allow "John, William and Harrie" to become regular girls by a change of garb.

1000 DEAD IN FOREST FIRE

MANY TOWNS AND CITIES ENTIRELY DESTROYED. MILLIONS OF DOLLARS LOST.

(By the Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 14.—With the bodies of forty-two victims in morgue at Aitkin, Minn., and more on the way, and over one hundred bodies at Moose Lake morgue and a hundred more expected before night fall as the estimate of dead in the forest fire which has swept northwest Minnesota Saturday and Sunday. The death toll stood early today at one thousand. The entire northwest section was today a smoldering ruin strewn with bodies burned beyond recognition. At least a dozen towns and cities are entirely destroyed and property loss will run into many millions. Between three and four hundred coffins have been ordered for Moose Lake alone. Countless small fires are burning today, but no large blazes looked for unless the seventy-mile gale of Saturday returns. Relief work is progressing rapidly.

If Jack Frost delays his coming this year to a reasonable date, fall gardens will do much to solve the high cost of living for several weeks. Since the rains began these gardens have been planted in great profusion.

Every man except one in every print shop in Ada will register next week for military service. If Ed Runion is left to do all the printing and publishing in Ada, he will be in a fine position to endorse a certain remark once made by General Sherman.—Star Democrat.

There should be increased interest in the home guard at this time when the new draft law is about to become effective. By learning the tactics now those who enter the army later will be just that far ahead of the raw recruits and be relieved of much work with the awkward squad. Now is the time to get some valuable experience, boys, so drop in and make the most of the opportunity, unless, of course, you enroll with the S. A. T. C. at the normal and many have not the time to do this.

OFFICIAL RULES FOR BIG DRAFT

HOW GREAT REGISTRATION OF MEN FOR OVERSEAS SERVICE WILL BE CONDUCTED.

According to unofficial information received pending the publication of the proclamation of President Wilson, the following procedure will be held in the conduct of the coming draft registration which press reports declare, will take place on Thursday, September 12.

State headquarters, local boards and other officials of the state will hold themselves in readiness to proceed promptly with their work of registration on the date fixed. Existing draft machinery will be used with such increased facilities and additional registrars as are required for this enrollment. The governors of the states, under the president's proclamation will probably be called upon to supervise this registration, and the Adjutant General, or draft executive, will be the central administrative authority. All local boards will have immediate direction and supervision within their respective jurisdiction. The actual registration of each board or in such other places as the local board having jurisdiction shall designate by public notice.

Rulings issued by the Provost Marshal General as to persons who are required to register under the act will be as follows:

All male persons who shall have attained their 18th birthday and shall not have attained their 46th birthday on or before the day set for registration by the president must register. The only exceptions are:

(A) Persons, who, prior to the day set for registration by the president, have registered under the terms of the act approved May 18, 1917, (which fixed the original age limit at 21 to 30 inclusive) or under the terms of the public resolution of congress approved May 20, 1918, (providing for the registration since June 5, 1917, of those reaching the age of 21 years), whether called for public service or not, and

(B) Officers and enlisted men of the regular army; officers appointed, and men of the forces drafted, under the provisions of the act approved May 18, 1917; officers and enlisted men of the National Guard while in the service of the United States; and the officers of the officers reserve corps and enlisted men in the enlisted reserve corps while in the service of the United States; and

(C) Officers and enlisted men of the navy and marine corps and officers and enlisted and enrolled men of the naval reserve force and marine reserve force while in the service of the United States; and

(D) Diplomatic representatives, technical attaches of foreign embassies and legations consuls general, consuls and consular agents of foreign countries residing in the United States.

Persons not subject to registration solely on account of being in the military or naval service of the United States become subject to registration and are required to register immediately upon leaving such military or naval service.

Citizens of the United States or persons who have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States who do not register on account of absence from the territorial limits of the United States are required to register within five days after their return to the United States.

The regulations will warn registrants and all other persons charged with a knowledge of the regulations, that ignorance of the provisions will not excuse them.

These regulations are to have the force and effect of law, and all persons required by these regulations to be registered, and all persons who may claim any right or privilege in respect of any registrant, will be charged with knowledge of the provisions hereof. Failure by any person required to be registered to perform any duty prescribed by these regulations is a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for one year, and may result in the loss of valuable rights and privileges and an immediate induction into the military service.

Local police authorities in all parts of the country will co-operate with the government in the enforcement of order on registration day. Regulations.

tions to be prescribed and sent to draft officials of the various states will contain the following provisions: On the day set for registration all federal marshals, deputy marshals and investigating agents, and all police officers, state, county, township, municipal, and town, of whatever grade or call, shall hold themselves in readiness to render whatever assistance may be necessary in preserving order at places of registration and in assisting in bringing about a complete registration.

All marshals, deputy marshals, investigating agents, and police officers shall examine the registration lists and report without delay to the local boards the names of any persons known by them to have failed to register themselves when liable to registration; and it shall be the duty of local boards to report to the proper United States District Attorney all cases coming to their attention of persons who have failed to present themselves for registration as required by law.

Police officers may require any person subject to registration to exhibit his registration certificate. In every case in which a duly designated officer or agent refuses or fails to act, the governor, adjutant general, or member of a local board will proceed at once to name another officer or agent for such duty, and will bring the fact of such refusal or failure, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the attention of the proper United States district attorney, with a view to the institution of prosecution of such officer or agent, as provided in Section 6 of the act approved May 18, 1917.

It is essential that the people of this state shall accord the fullest measure of co-operation in the carrying out of this order. Ignorance of the law and of regulations issued by proper authority under the law excuses no one. All persons on the border line of registration will be required to give adequate proof that they are outside of the age limit specified. The penalty for failure to register is one year's imprisonment, and no man can exonerate himself by the payment of a fine.

ALLIES IMPROVE BOMBING METHODS

Behind British Lines in France, Sept. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Aerial bombing is today far more of an exact science than was supposed possible a year and a half ago. In the early days of the war, dropping bombs was largely a matter of luck, and the straight eye of the aviator was the only factor relied upon for success. Today, however, matters are entirely different. Accurate bombights have been produced which, carefully used, are a guarantee of the bomb falling on the object aimed at, with a very small margin of error. Of course, in the case of all such instruments, the human element is sometimes responsible for errors of calculation, and a small error on a bomb-sight at 15,000 feet will send a bomb far out of its course. In the words of an American aviator who has done some splendid raiding work in France: From this it must not be thought that the majority of Allied bombs do not reach their billets in Germany or in the German lines; for aerial photographs taken after raids have shown that they do. But emphasis is laid on the importance of the personal factor in bombing. In the excitement of work of this kind—often in the midst of heavy shell fire—a very cool head is required to manipulate an instrument as delicate as a bomb-sight. British airmen for example, receive a very thorough training in bombing before they are allowed to proceed overseas, and must obtain a certain number of hits before they can graduate.

It is thought that quite a lot of the wanton and useless destruction of private property in England by German raiders is due to sheer bad bombing. Undoubtedly the Central Powers are behind the allies in regard to bombing gear, for on a large German twin-engine bombing airplane recently captured was found a crude copy of an English bomb-sight which was introduced more than two years ago.

Aerial bombs range in size from 10 pounds up to fifty or sixty times that weight and are roughly of two kinds, incendiary and high-explosive. They are generally laid on their sides in racks underneath the airplane but sometimes they are carried in cells specially fitted in the fuselage (or body) of the machine. In either case they are fused and released by levers placed convenient to the pilot or observer, the bombs themselves being far out of reach.

When a bomb is released it does not fall directly downward but takes a forward path as it drops, in the direction in which the machine is travelling. This is due to the momentum imparted to it by the speed of the aircraft. A factor of great importance in bombing is the time-length of the fuse. For example, if a railway junction was being attacked, a bomb which exploded on contact would do far more damage than one with a delay fuse for the former would have a wide, low radius of action—smashing up the railway line—while the latter would during the delay bury itself in the ground and merely make a deep crater of small area.

The reverse, however, would apply in the case of a munition factory. A bomb exploding on contact would go off as soon as it touched the roof, doing little or no damage to the remainder of the building; but an appropriately timed delay fuse would give the bomb time to crash through to the middle or ground floors, where it would be infinitely more destructive.

When you have an achey, stretchy feeling and you are dull, tired and discouraged it is a sign of approaching malaria or chills. You should act quickly to ward off an attack. HERBINE offers you the help you need. It destroys the malarial germ, drives out all impurities and makes you feel bright, vigorous and cheerful. Price 60c. Sold by Bart Smith.

UTO RACES AT THE STATE FAIR

DIRT TRACK KINGS AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Barney Oldfield, Arthur Chevrolet, Wild Bill Endicott and Others Are to Appear

Oklahoma City.—Lovers of the automobile racing game have been provided with a feast by the management of the Oklahoma State Fair & Exposition this year. The best dirt track racers of the entire world, headed by Barney Oldfield, one of the most reckless racers America has ever produced, will pilot their gasoline steeds on the State Fair grounds track for three days during Fair week.

Oldfield will appear in a match race with Arthur Chevrolet, on September 21, the opening day. This will undoubtedly attract one of the largest crowds of the week. Barney will drive his famous "Golden Submarine" with which he broke all records for five, ten, twenty-five and forty miles on a dirt track at Maxwellton track, near St. Louis, a year ago.

The Golden Submarine is a marvel. Its engine is constructed almost entirely of aluminum, and was designed by Oldfield himself. The body of the car resembles nothing so much as a great egg set upon wheels. The driver sits within this "egg" and watches the track through slits cut in it. The body is of aluminum, also, and is painted a brilliant yellow—hence the name.

Chevrolet, one of the most daring of the younger generation of gasoline pilots, drives a Chevrolet special, which many contend is as fast a car as the Golden Submarine. Barney and Chevrolet have never met in their two cars, hence their respective merits will be decided on the Oklahoma City track this year.

On September 25, and again on September 26, some of the galaxy of American and foreign racing stars will appear. They include Leon Dury, a Frenchman, who holds several world's records; Larry Doyle, an American, and also a record-holder; Jules Ellingboe, holder of several Canadian records; "Wild Bill" Endicott, known from coast to coast for his reckless daring; Vere Soules, a French newcomer to American tracks; and Sig Huggdahl, a Norwegian and the only Scandinavian in the racing game in America.

FAIR AMUSEMENTS GOOD

C. A. Wortham Shows on Midway at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City.—The best obtainable is none too good for patrons of the Oklahoma State Fair & Exposition, and in line with that policy the management has booked the C. A. Wortham shows for the midway this year.

Twenty-two of the cleanest shows obtainable form the company. The headliner is the famous Wortham-Rice Water Canal, in which a number of the best girl divers and swimmers of the country participate.

The C. A. Wortham shows have made a tour of Canadian and northern fairs already this year, and in every city in which they showed they have been given record patronage and the indorsement of newspapers and citizens generally.

"OLD MILL" OPEN

"The Old Mill," one of the best-patronized rides on the State Fair grounds at Oklahoma City, will be open again this year as usual, as will the "Figure Eight" and other riding devices which add to the fun possibilities of the Midway.

"The Old Mill" was burned two years ago at the same time that the old wooden grandstand was destroyed. The grandstand was replaced by the present concrete structure in plenty of time to accommodate State Fair crowds, but time would not permit replacing of the "Mill" until last year.

NEW BUILDINGS AT FAIR

Oklahoma City.—Three new buildings have been erected or completed for the comfort of visitors to the State Fair here this year. One is the Women's Rest cottage, another is the State Fair school, and the third is the concrete grandstand which was partially completed last year. Nearly $100,000 has been spent by the State Fair in improving its equipment since the State Fair closed its gates on September 29, 1917.

The Meaning of the Flag.

Ada Methodist.

The flag is a symbol. The psalmist said, "Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth." Our flag is no less a symbol of the truth. It signifies that we are a free people.

It proclaims that we are a United States. It symbolizes the thirteen colonies with its stripes and the United States with its stars. A pioneer minister in Montana related the following incident: On an isolated mountain road which he traveled there was a cabin inhabited by a prospector. Each Sunday as he passed he noticed the miner in front of his cabin reading his Bible. Hanging in the door each Sunday was the American flag. One day the minister climbed up to the cabin to inquire why the flag was displayed each Sunday. The prospector said that he loved his country and that he thought the Bible and the flag ought to be associated together, for both symbolized God's truth. When he read his Bible each Sunday he said he felt better to see the flag displayed.

The flag is also a security. It guarantees the citizen's safety. In 1869 a man was captured in Cuba under suspicious circumstances and was condemned to be shot. He was an Englishman by birth and an American by naturalization. The English and American consuls interfered for his life, but in vain. When the soldiers were drawn up to shoot the supposed spy the English consul stepped forward and wrapt the English Jack about the man and the American consul did the same with the Stars and Stripes. Then they told the executioners to shoot through those flags if they dared. The Spaniards did not dare. The flags saved his life.

The flag represents a sacrifice and a service. The red represents the nation's blood and the white the purity of a loyal service. It is not fiction when we read of the loyalty of the standard-bearer who carries the flag at the head of the army through the rain of shot and shell. It is not an empty sentiment which stirs our blood when we see the riddled flag displayed. Prescott tells of a Spanish standard-bearer whose right arm was shot off and who immediately grasped the flag in his left arm. Presently the left arm was shot off, and the heroic comrade caught the flag in his teeth and furiously rode at the head of the army, leading it to victory. The flag perpetuates the sacrifice and the service of the Nation's patriots.

The flag is a sacrament. A sacrament is a visible and outward sign of an inward and spiritual grace. Just as the Christian observes the Lord's supper to commemorate the death of his Lord, so the flag is the nation's sacrament, for it commemorates the most sacred things in the nation's life and history. Many of our States have laws which prohibit the printing of anything over the flag. Thus to obscure the flag is to dishonor and desecrate it. What better proof is needed to show that the nation regards the flag as a sacrament?

The flag is a sanctification. It hallows and consecrates the national sentiment. It fosters the purest patriotism in the heart of the citizen. In "The Making of an American" Jacob Riis tells us that when he was home in Denmark on a visit to his mother he fell sick of a fever. When he was convalescent one day they rolled his bed into a room overlooking the sea. As he lay moodily picking the coverlet, sick and discouraging, he suddenly saw a ship passing close inshore. The ship was flying the American flag. He sat up in bed, he tells us, and shouted and laughed and cried by turns, waving his handkerchief to the flag. His folks thought he had lost his head. But he adds: "I found it, and my heart, too, at last. I knew it was my flag; that I also had become an American." Does the flag likewise sanctify us? Does it consecrate us to the nation's ideals? Does it purify our patriotism? Do we comprehend the truth which our banner displays? When we see the flag unfurled, do we also understand what it is to be an American?

Too Late.
Matt. 25:10.

A few years ago I went over the battlefield of Waterloo with an old Walloon guide. As we stood by the doorway of the stone chateau which was the center of the battle, the guide pointed out the wall which sheltered the Old Guard of Napoleon, and the ditch where Wellington's musketeers were hid, and the well which was filled with bodies of the dead and from which the cries of the wounded were heard on that fateful night. On my asking for the direction in which Blucher's troops had come to the relief of the allies, the guide pointed to a road running over the crest of a distant hill and cried, "There's where he came! At four o'clock in the afternoon!" Then turning to the opposite hills, he added, "And there's where Jerome should have planted his great guns at half-past three!" Then, with curses on the head of Prince Jerome, he walked, "Too late! Too late! And France was lost!" This is the requiem of lost fame, lost fortune, lost life, thru all the ages! Too late! Too late!—D. J. Burrell, in the Christian Herald.

Style in War-Time

Some men may feel that it isn't patriotic to go in for style these days.

It isn't if you just buy clothes for style alone. Quality is of first importance every time; you must have it if you want to save for yourself and the nation.

The nice thing about it here is the fact that you get style in addition to quality; it doesn't make the clothes cost any more and it doesn't waste any material.

Hart Schaffner & Marx designers have produced some unusually smart suits and overcoats; you don't have to be told the quality's right—everybody knows it.

ENGLISH REFUSE HALF WAY PEACE

GERMAN CHANCELLOR MAY RESIGN, ACCORDING TO ADVICE FROM HOLLAND.

(By the Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14.—No temporary armistice, nor any armistice at all, unless accompanied by Germany's unconditional surrender, is the dominant note in the most of the comment on the peace situation in this morning's newspapers. The Morning Post says, "No armistice until defeat is acknowledged by the enemy. Otherwise the war has been in vain." The Daily Chronicle says, "Germany must not be left free to rattle the sword again at the peace conference."

Imperial German Chancellor May Resign.

London, Oct. 14.—Resignation of Prince Maximilian of Baden Imperial German Chancellor is probable, according to reports from Holland today. Advices quote Berlin National Zeitung as saying Chancellor's retirement regarded in certain circles as inevitable.

Government Asks Forbearance

Washington, Oct. 13.—The Government asks the American people to withhold their judgment on Germany's note until President Wilson has received the official communication and has opportunity to consider it.

The official document had not been received in Washington tonight when the president returned from New York. It probably will be here tomorrow when the president confers with his advisers, among them Secretary Baker, who returned today from the western battle front undoubtedly prepared to give him some inside information on the broken condition of the German military power of which the world necessarily does not know at this time.

Tonight, as last night, no official of the Government felt justified in speaking to guide public opinion in the direction of the views which are being formed. The Associated Press is enabled to say, however, that these views rapidly are crystallizing and the next step will be taken promptly, probably sooner than may be expected.

War Summary by Associated Press

The Germans have abandoned Laon and entire St. Gboain regions. The French after re-occupying Laon have pressed on until their line runs from the Oise river above La Fere to the eastern end of Chemin des Dames. Not until the French reached Laon-Le Fere railroad did they encounter any real resistance. The French and British have virtually reached Brunshild line east of Cambrai and St. Quentin, while French, farther south are within four miles of Guise. On the Champagne front General Berthlot is less than five miles from Reims, while General Gouraud has taken Vouziers but hasn't penetrated much north of it. Douai has virtually been reached.

HUN NOTE HAS BEEN RECEIVED

TO BE SENT ALLIES, CONSIDERED AND ANSWERED BY PRESIDENT.

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 14.—Germany's reply to President Wilson's note reached the president early today and was identical with the wireless version received Saturday night. President Wilson, Secretaries Baker and Lansing, and Colonel House were in conference till after noon and then the president was left alone in his study. The only official intimation that has come today was that the president is sure to act quickly and positively. It is assumed that informal exchanges will be made between Washington and allied capitals, and it is thought that the president may determine his reply before the day is over, if he is informed of the views of the allied premiers.

New Words Will Be Retained.

When the United States opened an official postal service through the air words were coined to meet this new departure. These met with such favor with the postal officials that they are used officially in the postal service. These words, which appeared on the day the new service was inaugurated, are "postplane," "plane-post" and "plane-posted."

BRITISH CLOSING IN ON DOUAI, FRENCH AND SERBIANS BEYOND NISH.

(By the Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14.—British are closing in on both sides of Douai, Field Marshal Haig in official statement reports gains on both sides of that town. The enemy attacks were supported by tanks. The enemy was repulsed yesterday at Haspres, southwest of Valenciennes. British patrols pushed out last night at number of points, gaining ground and taking prisoners.

Serbiants Take More Ground.
London, Oct. 14.—After capturing Nish Saturday the Serbian forces took possession of the enemy positions north of that town, according to the Serbian official statement of today. French cavalry have occupied Bela Palanka.

French Repulse Germans.
Paris, Oct. 14.—French troops last night continued to keep in contact with the retreating Germans, the French war office announced today. French repulsed the remaining enemy troops showing resistance on Aisne canal's north bank, south of Chateau Porcien.

BEWARE OF GERMAN TRICKERY.

With an experience of more than four years with the German nation in all of its treacherous and lying methods, it is not to be presumed that the Allied nations are going to take any chances in dealing with her in a peace settlement. In the first place they are going to be very sure that the Huns really want peace and are willing to pay the price demanded by the Allies. Every precaution against falling into a German trap will be taken and no suspicious movement tolerated. The Allies will be as alert to resent any show of treachery as the old time westerner was to act when he saw the hand of the other fellow move towards his hip pocket. In the next place every man realizes that the war will have been in vain if German militarism is permitted to retire from the fray unbroken. Germany will pant for revenge and will begin preparations for another world war unless so tightly bound that no such thing is possible. The world wants peace but wants permanent peace, not a mere truce, and we may rest assured that the American government will agree to nothing else. Meantime it should be borne in mind that peace has not yet come and that we should not relax our efforts in the Liberty Loan campaign and other activities. Now that the Hun shows signs of weakening America should redouble all efforts and make as speedy an end of him as possible.

DANGER IN DETAILS.

As the News views the situation, there are two sources of danger for the allies in the latest German peace move. In the first place the other nations allied with the United States do not have to accept the German offer, inasmuch as they have never expressed their willingness to do so. Such a cause would almost certainly result in serious difficulties between the nation fighting Germany and would break down the effectiveness of the unity of action. This course of affairs is not likely to occur, however, as President Wilson would hardly have offered such terms to Germany without the approval of the other governments.

The other source of danger is in arranging the details of the armistice. If we agree to let the German army march back to German soil with their arms and then dig themselves in, we take grave chances. We must remember that the word of a German amounts to nothing. Before granting an armistice, the German army should be compelled to lay down arms, or the allies should demand the control of certain German cities and certain German railroads. This is little less than a surrender, but to demand less is to fail to take advantage of the condition of the German army. The German rulers are trying desperately to do one of two things: kill time in order that the army may hold until bad weather sets in; get the allies divided. These are the two things we must avoid.

Marvelous Grand Canyon.

Those who have lived with, rather than glanced at, the Grand Canyon become increasingly moved by its glories. It has inspired more literature and art than all the other scenic places of America combined. It is the center of a steadily increasing pilgrimage of painters. It perhaps may be said that the Grand Canyon and the region of which it is the climax inspire the highest as well as certainly the most extensive expression of landscape art in America today.

America the Old World.

It has been observed that, although this continent is the new world in relation to its discovery, it is an old world, much older than Europe, in relation to the types of its animals and plants. For example, the big trees of California are of older stock than any trees now growing in Europe. The question has been raised whether some of the races of Siberia and eastern Asia have not sprung from American aborigines, rather than that our Indians have come from that quarter.

Full, True and Particular.

A girl was asked to parse "kiss," and this was her result: "This word is a noun, but it is usually used as a conjunction. It is never declined and is more common than proper. It is not very singular, in that it is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me."

Well Rewarded for Victory.

After Waterloo the British parliament purchased for the duke the estate of Strathfieldsaye at a cost of £260,000. The king of the Netherlands, grateful for restoration to his throne, created the victor Prince of Waterloo and presented him with large estates. Other distinctions included the Orders of the Garter and the Golden Fleece and the rank of field marshal in eight European armies.

Homophony.

Homophony is another name for Unison, where two or more voices or instruments have the same part. It is the opposite of Polyphony where different tunes are heard at the same time. The term is not in general use in music.

PURCHASE MORE LIBERTY BONDS

APPEAL FOR MORE MONEY URGENT—HAVE YOU BOUGHT.

Redoubled efforts are under way to meet the full situation in the matter of increasing the bond buying. That every person must go the extreme limit and purchase all the bonds possible is the test of patriotism that must be applied. If you CAN buy another bond go and do so AT ONCE. Don't delay. Your government MUST have more money, and must get it from you.

Chairman Ellison received yesterday the following telegram from the Federal Reserve Bank which is self explanatory.

"Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.

"L. A. Ellison, Ada, Okla.
"We cannot too strongly impress upon you and your people the fact that there must be no slackening of effort in the Liberty Loan campaign on account of the publication of the news of Germany's acceptance of peace terms. It would be nothing short of a tragedy in American history if the loan should fail. Our task is not by any means finished and Germany is watching the results of our loan just as closely as ever. The facts are that the money which is being subscribed to this loan has already been contracted and actually spent by the government. Furthermore our government has enormous outstanding obligations yet to be met and unless every unit in the loan organizations of the tenth district meets its full obligation we may properly be classed quitters. Give this telegram widest possible publicity and wire us immediately to the effect that there are no quitters in your country.—Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and Central Liberty Loan Committee Tenth Federal Reserve District."

To which the following reply was sent: Federal Reserve Bank, Kansas City, Missouri:

"We have already oversubscribed our quota and are still at work. There are no quitters in our county.—L. A. Ellison, Chairman Pontotoc County."

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WILSON'S FAMOUS FOURTEEN PRINCIPLES

Washington, October 14.—President Wilson's program of world peace stated in fourteen terms in his address to Congress last Jan. 8 is as follows:

1. Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understanding of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view.

2. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas, outside territorial waters alike in peace and in war, except as the seas may be closed in whole or in part by international action for the enforcement of international covenants.

3. The removal, so far as possible, of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

4. Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

5. A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon a strict observance of the principle that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the Government whose title is to be determined.

6. The evacuation of all Russian territory and such a settlement of all questions affecting Russia as will secure the best and freest co-operation of the other nations of the world in obtaining for her an unhampered and unembarrassed opportunity for the independent determination of her own political development and national policy and assure her of a sincere welcome into the society of free nations under institutions of her own choosing; and, more than a welcome, assistance also of every kind that she may need and may herself desire. The treatment accorded Russia by her sister nations in the months to come will be the acid test of their good will, of their comprehension of their needs as distinguished from their own interests and of their intelligent and unselfish sympathy.

7. Belgium, the whole world will agree, must be evacuated and restored without any attempt to limit the sovereignty which she enjoys in common with all other free nations. No other single act will serve as this will serve to restore confidence among the nations in the laws which they themselves have set and determined for the Government of their relations with one another. Without this healing act, the whole structure and validity of international law is forever impaired.

8. All French territory should be freed and the invaded portions restored and the wrong done to France by Prussia in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine, which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years, should be righted, in order that peace may once more be made secure in the interest of all.

9. A readjustment of the frontiers of Italy should be effected along clearly defined lines of nationality.

10. The peoples of Austria-Hungary, whose place among nations we wish to see safeguarded and assured, should be accorded the freest opportunity of autonomous development.

11. Roumania, Serbia and Montenegro should be evacuated; occupied territories restored; Serbia accorded free and secure access to the sea, and the relations of the several Balkan states to one another determined by friendly counsel along historically established lines of allegiance and nationality; and international guarantees of the political and economic integrity of the several Balkan States should be entered into.

12. The Turkish portion of the present Ottoman Empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities which are now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubted security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage to the ships and commerce of all nations under international guarantees.

13. Erection of an independent Polish State, including the territories inhabited by indisputably Polish populations, with free access to the sea and with political and economic independence and territorial integrity internationally guaranteed.

14. The formation of a general association of nations under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantee of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike.

In his speech of Feb. 12 the President said:

"After all, the test of whether it is possible for either government to go any further into this comparison of views is simple and obvious. The principles to be applied are these:

"1. That each part of the final settlement must be based upon the essential justice of that particular cause and upon such adjustments as are most likely to bring a peace that will be permanent.

"2. That peoples and provinces are not to be bartered about from sovereignty to sovereignty, as if they were mere chattels and pawns in a game, even the great game, now forever discredited, of the balance of power; but that

"3. Every territorial settlement involved in this war must be made in the interest and for the benefit of the population concerned, and not as a part of any mere adjustment or compromise of claims among rival States; and,

"4. That all well defined national aspirations shall be accorded the utmost satisfaction that can be accorded them, without introducing new or perpetuating old elements of discord and antagonism that would be likely, in time, to break the peace of Europe and consequently of the world.

"A general peace erected on such foundations can be discussed. Until such a peace can be secured we have no choice but to go on. So far as we can judge that we regard as fundamental are already everywhere accepted as imperative except among the spokesmen of the military and annexationist party in Germany. If they have anywhere else been rejected, the objectors have not been sufficiently numerous to make their voices audible. The tragical circumstance is that this one party in Germany is apparently willing and able to send millions of men to their death to prevent what all the world now sees to be just."

Died at Boston.

Russell Williams, a brother of Joel Williams, the peccan man, died of pneumonia Friday night in the Marine hospital at Boston, Mass. The young man had been in the service only three months and his death was quite a shock to the family, they having known nothing of his illness.
